CFIA FOOD ORIGIN GLOSSARY

Product Of Canada

All or virtually all major ingredients, processing, and labour used to make the food product are Canadian. This means that all the significant ingredients in a food product are Canadian in origin and that non-Canadian material is negligible.

Made In Canada

With a qualifying statement can be used on a food product when the last substantial transformation of the product occurred in Canada, even if some ingredients are from other countries.

100% Canadian

The food or ingredient to which the claim applies must be entirely Canadian rather than "all or virtually all" Canadian.
